Rev. Jackson Resigns Post In S. C. L. C. Policy Split

United Nation's 'most effective' peacemaker, Ralph Bunche, buried century era of potentially disastrous brush fire wars, died last Thursday at the age of 67. He gained a Holy Land truce in 1949 at the risk of his life, and won the Nobel Prize.

President Nixon led the world in eulogizing Bunche, who was present at the birth of the United Nations and served the international agency for 25 years. He retired Oct. 1 as undersecretary-general, the highest ranking American in the secretariat.

"One of the greatest architects of peace in our time," Nixon called Bunche, "America is deeply proud of its distinguished son and profoundly saddened by his death."

Bunche has served under all three secretaries-general who directed the United Nations since its founding in San Francisco in 1945--Trygve Lie, Dag Hammarskjöld and U. Thant.

"He was the most effective and best known of international civil servants, and his record of achievement as an individual member of the secretariat was outstanding."

Panther leader Newton not to be tried for fourth time

OAKLAND, Calif. --

Huey P. Newton, one of the original founders of the Black Panther Party, was a free man this week after charges of manslaughter against him were dropped after a jury late last week could not reach a verdict for the second time in his trial on a manslaughter charge in the death of an Oakland policeman.

The prosecutor's office said Wednesday that it would be "useless" to try Newton for a fourth time, stating that they doubt that they could prove, beyond a reasonable doubt, that Newton was responsible for the policeman's death.

Earlier Saturday the jury at Newton's third trial in the case asked to rehear testimony from doctors on the possibility the party leader may have been unconscious when the policeman was shot to death.

Saturday was the third day of deliberations by the eight women, four man panel attempting to determine whether Newton is innocent or guilty.

Newton, 29, who cofounded the Black Panther party, was accused of killing Oakland police officer John Frey in October 1967. He claimed he was innocent and fell unconscious with a stomach wound and that another policeman shot Frey by mistake.

Jurors deliberated for two

Angela Davis trial set for Jan. 31

PALO ALTO, CALIF. --

The Angela Davis murder-kidnapping - conspiracy trial will begin Jan. 31 in San Jose, Calif.

The announcement of the new date for the trial originally set for last Sept. 27, came after a meeting between the judge and defense and prosecuting attorneys.

The case will be heard in the criminal legal building in downtown San Jose.

Miss Davis, charged as an accessory in a plot that led to the courthouse shoot-out in Marin County, Calif., in August, 1970, was transferred there from San Rafael, Calif., Dec. 2.

Arrest 4th suspect in murder case

A fourth man charged with murder in the Dec. 3 shotgun slaying of a white tavern patron was in jail this week following his arrest last Thursday night in the 2400 block of N. New Jersey.

Black leader says he will form new group

CHICAGO--In an emotionally charged statement, the Rev. Jesse L. Jackson announced Saturday as national director of Operation Breadbasket, the powerful economic arm of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

His resignation came in the wake of apparent split between the youthful Rev. Jackson and top S.C.L.C. officials. The conference earlier this month had suspended Rev. Jackson for 90 days with pay in a dispute over the handling of funds.

Rev. Jackson stunned the more than 3,000 supporters who had gathered for a regular meeting of the group when, with tears in his eyes, he told them he could no longer work under the circumstances in which he now found himself.

He indicated he would be forming his own organization but said he did not know when or where. He told his audience that he would meet someplace with them next Saturday, but

Children found living in filth; mother arrested, loses children

A 21-year-old mother of four lost her children and her freedom last week when she was jailed on charges of cruelty and child neglect.

Miss Gerry Goble, 2355 N. Delaware, remained in custody this week under $1,000 bond after authorities arrested her last Thursday when they found her children, ranging in ages from five months to five years, living in what they described as a "filthy, roach-infested home."

Under a court order obtained by juvenile authorities, the young mother's children were sent to the County Children's Guardian Home. They were Bill Jo, 5 months old, Ellisa, 5, Clifford, D., 4, and Mar-

Transit system reneges; PSC asked to assist C.A.T.

The Public Service Commission on Wednesday was asked to intervene by the Coalition for Adequate Transportation in its efforts to get the Indianapolis Transit System to enter the Senior Citizens Half-Fare Demonstration.

For the last two weeks, the C.A.T., the city government of Indianapolis including the Department of Metropolitan Development, and a large number of citizens throughout the community have worked hard and diligently in cooperation with the Indianapolis Transit System to provide for a Senior Citizens Half-Fare Demonstration to be begun next week.

Long hours of work, research and community work have gone into the experiment.

This was designed to guarantee that the Indianapolis Transit System would be reimbursed for any and all losses occurring during the Senior Citizens Half-Fare Demonstration.

After considerable efforts by all the parties involved including the City Council, the Mayor, the Department of Metropolitan Development and the Coalition; after all the mechanics of the Senior Citizens Half-Fare Demonstration have been thoroughly worked out, I regret to announce that yesterday the Indianapolis Transit System has backed out of its agreement to participate in the Senior Citizens Half-Fare Demonstration.

This means that senior citizens

Former local man may seek mayor's office at Louisville

LOUISVILLE--
The Black Non-Partisan Political Organization (BNPO) Saturday kicked off a campaign to elect a black mayor of Louisville in 1973 with its candidate conspicuously absent.

Thus, the Rev. Leo Lesser Jr., former Indianapolis night club owner turned minister, continues to be announced but frequently mentioned candidate.

Lesser, a prominent civil rights leader who is associated director of the Louisville-Jefferson County Human Relations Commission, was first mentioned (without his knowledge) by BNPO as a mayoral candidate last July.

Since then others have endorsed him. He received the backing of the Black Student Union at the University in September. Last week Police Court Judge Neville M. Tucker announced support for Lesser.

Officers of PNPO, a group of about 45 civic, religious and political leaders, scheduled a press conference for last Saturday to launch Lesser's 1973 campaign and a voter registration drive.

BNPO President Eddie Hill said that Lesser had been invited to attend and had indicated he would come, but he didn't.

Richard Field, voter registration chairman, told how BNPO would conduct a door-to-door registration drive. Hill talked of forming committees from all sections of Louisville to rally people around Lesser.

"I was asked if the Rev. Lesser will run," Hill said, "I'm almost sure he'll have to after we get done."

9 Memphis cops indicted in death of black youth

MEMPHIS,-----
A sheriff's lieutenant, two sheriff's patrolmen and a city police officer have been indicted on first-degree murder charges in the beating death of a black teenager.

The Shelby County grand jury also indicted four other policemen on charges of assault to murder and a police inspector with neglect of duty. The indictments were returned last Tuesday.

All but the sheriff's lieutenant are white and all have been released on bond. The indictments stem from the fatal beating Oct. 15 of Elton Hayes, 17, who died after he and two companions were arrested following a police auto chase. His death was blamed for five days of racial violence here.

Police had reported that Hayes died from injuries received when the pickup truck in which he was a passenger ran into a ditch. But an autopsy report said he died from two blows to the head.

Sheriff Roy C. Nixon, his voice cracking and his eyes filled with tears, told a news conference that Lieut. Theodore R. Wilks, 38, and two patrolmen had been charged with first-degree murder. The patrolmen are Edward M. Bonham, 24, and Johnny L. Roberts, 23.

Memphis Patrolman Michael J. Dougherty also was charged with first-degree murder. Charged with assault to murder were policemen William L. Graves, James B. Dyer, Larry R. Skelton and Danny L. Davis, who were released on $2,500 bond. Bond for those charged with murder was set at $10,000.

Police Inspector Harold Ray was charged with neglect of duty and released on bond of $500.

The indictments climaxed a two-month investigation by the district attorney's office and three days of testimony before an all-male grand jury of 10 whites and three blacks.

Mrs. Alonzo McGowan, Hayes' mother, said her son was her only child, "I feel empty," she said after learning of the indictments. "Christmas is coming up and I have nothing. I can't forget him. But maybe I'll

Justice group to investigate North Carolina racial troubles

NEW YORK, N.Y.,-----

The Commission for Racial Justice of the two-million-member United Church of Christ announced here recently that it will hold its next meeting in Wilmington, North Carolina, for a first-hand investigation of racial conflict there.

The Rev. Charles E. Cobb, executive director of the Commission, said that other denominations would be invited to join in holding hearings aimed at finding possible solutions for Wilmington's racial problems. The meeting will probably be held sometime in January. Reporting the unanimous vote of the Commission for Racial Justice to go to Wilmington, Commission Chairman T. Willard Fair, Miami, Florida, said the meeting would "dramatize the Commission's support for the Black community against the systematic violence being perpetrated against it by racist forces there."

Violence in the troubled community can be expected to increase because of the activities of a new organization calling itself the Rights of White People, the Rev. Ben Chavis of Wilmington reported to the Commission for Racial Justice.

Mother has cancer, father is disabled-child says

As of today Christmas is just one week away and whether or not needy families throughout the city will enjoy a traditional holiday meal and their children receive toys, food and clothing depends on YOU.

It is through your yearly donation to The Recorder Charities Inc. that money is provided so that the poor may have a "Merry Christmas".

Contributions from the general public continue to come in to The Recorder office, but these are overshadowed by the sympathetic letters which are received daily, though the deadline for requests was Dec. 1.

Have you or your organization or church given to The Recorder Charities? If not, make this a MUST for your calendar today. Mail or bring your money, check, or money order to The Recorder Charities, 518 Indiana, 46202.

Through your aid, fatherless children, the disabled, mothers on welfare or A.D.C. mothers with several children, and fathers who are unemployed and therefore unable to provide for their youngsters, will receive a check, although in most cases it is not enough to alleviate their destitute condition.

One small child wrote that her father is disabled and thus unemployed, and her mother has cancer and is not expected to live. There are four other children in this family and three are retarded and need special care which the family cannot afford. The only money coming in each month is an inadequate welfare check. The family also receives food stamps. The children are young enough to realize that Christmas is not

Kindergarten activities are reading in disguise

(This is the second in a series of 12 informative articles to orient parents to help beginning readers at home. Reprints may be secured from the National Reading Center, 1776 Massachusetts Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. - 20036).

Many reading skills are started in kindergarten, although children and parents usually don't think so. Long before your child even learns the alphabet or begins to put letters together to form words he will be building a foundation in language.

A kindergarten classroom often looks like a well-equipped playroom, but many kindergarten activities are really learning in disguise. Reading preparation skills are being developed every day.

When your child is painting at an easel, for example, he is discovering the facts of differences for himself. He learns how to mix the colors so that they become lighter, darker, then lighter again. He learns that he can make a skinny line or a fat one. Shapes and symbols on paper are fun for him.

As he paints, he creates shapes, his own shapes. Here he can begin to learn something about forming symbols. The ABC's are the symbols he soon will use in reading, but they will probably have more meaning for him if he has had many opportunities to create picture symbols.

At the same time, he is having a kind of writing experience. He may not be writing words, but he is experiencing what it is to express himself on paper.

A simple jig-saw puzzle also will teach your child something about his abilities. Again he is learning the difference between shapes as he fits the pieces together. The puzzle is self-testing--he can tell for himself when it is done correctly and he can move on to a more difficult one when he feels ready. Because he is not performing for anyone but himself, he may gain some self-confidence and not be afraid to experiment.

Kindergarten play - acting presents a wonderful opportunity for vocabulary building. A little boy dressing up as a doctor will certainly want to use his stethoscope to make

Magazine week— Black minister helps his flock on weekdays as Federal worker

SEATTLE, Wash.,—

Ulysses S. Carr is an ordained minister who helps people "weekdays as well as on Sundays" through a separate but related career as an equal employment opportunity specialist in the Northwest regional office of the U. S. Labor Department's Manpower Administration.

In his Federal job, Mr. Carr is responsible for determining that manpower training projects in Alaska, Idaho, Oregon and Washington meet Federal requirements of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

His vigilance provides that minorities get their full entitlement under Federally-funded programs in the four-state region.

On Sundays, many of those who hear him in church pulpits are the same poor people who benefit through the manpower training programs which clear his desk in planning stages.

During the week, however, his audiences in the Labor Department are often made up of project sponsors and representatives to whom he emphasizes requirements of the Civil Rights Act.

A native of Oklahoma, born and raised on a farm, the soft-spoken 57-year-old black man had a long career in "helping people" prior to joining the Labor Department at Seattle in 1969.

He points out that he has common heritage with those whose interests he serves. While he came to know the plight of the poor in his own boyhood, it was reemphasized through personal experience and hardship during the depression years of the 1930's.

His life took on new and added dimensions, however, between 1943 and 1946, when night work as a welder in a California shipyard provided him with the time and means to enroll in day classes at San Francisco State College. He received a B.A. degree in Psychology and Philosophy in 1948.

In 1946, while still in college, he secured employment as a psychiatric aide in San Francisco's Langley Porter Clinic and worked there until 1950.

In the interim, he was also ordained an Elder in the African Methodist Episcopal Church in 1947, and entered the Pacific School of Religion Seminary in 1948 to start work for a B.D. Degree, majoring in religious education.

His first close contact with "troubled people" came about in 1950 when he accepted a position as a group supervisor with the California Youth Authority, assigned to the Preston School of Industry in charge of a 50-ward dormitory occupied by delinquent and young adult criminal offenders in the reformatory. "I needed all of that psychological training as well as a strong religious foundation," he recalls of his initial role in counseling.

Promotion to senior supervisor for another 50-ward dormitory followed when the California Reception Center-Clinic was established in 1954.

Another promotion to the position of parole agent and assignment to the South Los Angeles area followed in 1955, with his responsibilities including surveillance and arrests as well as counseling in parole violation cases.

His work as a state officer came to a close in 1964, however, through assignment to a church pastorate at Spokane, Wash.

Motivation to help young people prompted him to take on added, fulltime responsibilities as a Neighborhood Youth Corps supervisor in 1966 at Spokane, helping to train and counsel young people.

The NYC assignment was a prelude to his entry into Federal service, for following a church transfer to the Seattle Tacoma area in 1968, he developed deep interest in the equal employment opportunity requirements of Federal law as a field of added public service.

"I've worn many hats, and still wear two collars," Mr. Carr agrees. "But my objectives have remained the same down through the years: to help people. Man doesn't live by bread alone, but he must eat to live. I'm trying to help him get his chance five days a week, and reminding him on Sundays to make that chance count in terms of a meaningful life."

Kroger to
'open date'
perishables

The Kroger Company this week announced that it will "open date" some 1300 perishable food products packed under its private label.

Announcement of the major policy decision was made in Milwaukee at a conference for consumer group leaders sponsored by the Center for Consumer Affairs of the University of Wisconsin Extension and the Community Nutrition Institute of Washington, D. C.

In making the announcement, Theodore Engel, vice-president of grocery merchandising, Kroger Food Stores, said the date will indicate the final day on which the product may be offered for sale. This "pull" or final sale date is designed to allow the product to be at high quality for an average usage period (or longer) in the customer's home after purchase.

The program is being implemented immediately, Engel said, starting with wieners and luncheon meats, refrigerated biscuits, eggs and margarine. By the end of 1972, he explained, 1300 private brand perishable and semi-perishable food products packed in Kroger's own processing plants or by outside manufacturers will be open-dated.

Kroger private label food products are sold in the company's 1400 supermarkets in 20 midwestern and southern states.

Should enforcement of vice laws be stopped?

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1971

BY SHERWOOD ROSS

Should the police stop enforcing the laws on gambling, numbers, prostitution and dope-peddling?

Many people would shudder at the thought, according to an article in the current issue of Saturday Review.

Among those who might cry loudest would be the bosses behind the dope-peddling racket, the numbers game, and the call-girl business. If the public stopped trying to enforce a code of moral conduct, syndicate organizers could lose out.

Most important, according to two criminologists writing in the magazine, 90 per cent of the workload of the courts removed; the narcotics situation would be improved, and corruption in police departments would be lessened.

"Whatever the merits and feasibility of increased police patrols to handle street crime, there is at least no doubt that citizens need to be protected against thieves and murderers," write authors Alexander B. Smith and Harriet Pollack of the John Jay College of Criminal Justice at City University, New York.

"There is a real question, however, whether campaigns against gamblers, prostitutes, and dope pushers are not actually counterproductive in terms of producing a decent, stable society." The authors claim that if the sale of heroin were legalized and given out by prescription, the way it is done in England, "we would probably eliminate well over half the cases going through our criminal courts."

They say that, at present, by cutting off all legal access to heroin, users go out and commit crimes to pay for their habit. This actually

Black voters win control of town in North Florida

GRETNA, Fla.,----- Until September, no blacks were registered to vote in this town in northern Florida's Gadsden County. But this week blacks captured control of the town's government at the ballot box.

A black majority Tuesday ousted the white mayor, two white councilmen and a white clerk, replacing all with black. Unseated by a vote of 111 to 94 was Mayor A. Watson Jr., who had said "blacks are too lazy" to register to vote.

Earnest Barkley Jr., 27-years-old, an employee at the State Mental Hospital at Chattahoochee and a part-time college student, became the new mayor of this town of 2,500. William Blair and Walter Smith also won council races, giving blacks a 3-to-2 majority on the council.

An active voter registration drive sponsored by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People spurred the upsurge in black registration.

spreads the damage done by heroin from themselves to the society at large.

And one reason the FBI has a better record in law enforcement work than do local police, the writers claim is because the G-men deal with crimes in which there are victims—kidnapping, sky-jacking, etc., and can call in witnesses and build a strong case.

By contrast, police who spend their time enforcing the morals laws, where there are no victims, must produce their own evidence against dope users and prostitutes—and sometimes the cops make it up, the courts have held.

Psychology Today magazine for December devotes itself to the aged. "Contrary to popular myth, the aged are not sexless, unhappy and conservative," the magazine says. More than 20 per cent of the men studied in one Duke University poll quoted by the publication reported "rising sexual interest and activity as they aged."

Nor do elderly persons disintegrate mentally, the magazine says, except if they suffer from high blood pressure. For the majority who do not, there is no appreciable decline in mental activity.

Psychology Today also carries an article about bias against working women. At the University of Michigan, Dr. Teresa Levitin found that 94.9 per cent of the women studied were underpaid and $3,468 a year less than she should have earned.

Peculiarly, many of the women polled did not realize that they were being discriminated against. Only 7.9 per cent studied by Dr. Levitin said they felt they suffered from job discrimination.

If you are going abroad, says Travel & Leisure magazine, you had better report to U.S. customs officials any foreign-made items you are taking out of the country with you. If you don't you will have a hard time getting them back into the States without paying duty. The publication also says that ancient Japanese inns are delightful, if you happen to be vacationing in Japan.

Time and Newsweek this week both devote their covers to the slaughter taking place in the Orient as India and Pakistan once again fight it out.

Change, the magazine of higher education, reports that the chief virtue of the California state college system—namely the small class taught by a top professor—is being sacrificed to Gov. Ronald Reagan's budget cuts. Class sizes are soaring while the number of professors is being cut.

Intellectual Digest, the new magazine of ideas, contains an article by Washington, D. C. attorneys Ronald Goldfarb and Linda Singer who claim "the time has come to forget reforming the prison system and to begin thinking about replacing it." In their view, the prisons fall in almost every way, and so do the prisoners coming out of them—and who usually wind up going back. One needed reform would be to pay the prisoners at civilian scales for the work they do in prison, thus helping to keep their families off relief, inspire pride in work, and enable convicts to have ample money when they get out in order to get started.

A big foulup in the prisons is that most prison personnel are custodial and fewer than 10 per cent have anything to do with medical care or vocational rehabilitation, psychiatric counseling, and the like. With the emphasis on punishment, and with prison authorities resenting vocational rehabilitation efforts, the convicts are not likely to be fit for the world of work upon their release.

Intellectual Digest also contains a companion article by Chester Himes, the distinguished author of "Cotton Comes to Harlem," about his experiences as a robber in his youth. Himes, was also manhandled by the police and got a harsh sentence despite his lack of any previous criminal record. (A half-price Christmas subscription to Intellectual Digest costs $5 by writing to P.O. Box 2986, Boulder, Colo., 80302.)

Ordinances are criticized by black realtors

LOS ANGELES,-----

"The National Association of Real Estate Brokers, founded in Detroit, has existed since 1947. We have worked in the shadow of the rich and powerful white brokers in our land for the past 24 years. We have seen our businesses controlled by forces beyond our organization. In several areas of the country including Detroit we have seen ordinances and bans imposed against our business activities. These forces have limited and crippled our thrust in the real estate industry," according to Willis E. Carson, president of the NAREB.

"Recently, a flurry of anti-solicitation ordinances have sprung up in isolated areas across the country including Detroit. These ordinances strike the heart of our business and are against the grain of the Civil Rights Act of 1968 because they maintain and perpetuate segregated housing patterns," he said.

Continuing, he pointed out: "The law makes it illegal to discriminate in the sale, rental, or financing of housing because of race, religion, color or national origin. We feel these ordinances are a form of discrimination pointed directly against us."

"Those who support such ordinances, in effect, stop black brokers from plying their trade. They effectively keep the listing and sale of residential properties in the hands of a chosen few. White homeowners list their property with only white brokers in their areas, who in turn, show and sell that property to white only. This practice perpetuates segregation and denies prospective black homeowners access to all housing that may be for sale. "When the selling of housing is open to all qualified brokers, white or black, we shall see an end to many of the problems we, as a nation, face. "We intend to fight these illegal ordinances and, if necessary, we will go to the Supreme Court for relief from these oppressive local laws. "Our motto is 'Democracy in Housing,' and we shall seek it for all with untiring efforts."

REPORTS on their solicitation of funds for The Indianapolis Recorder Charities, Inc., were made when members of The Recorder Women Sponsors met the past Saturday at the home of Mrs. Fred Perdue. Under the able leadership of Mrs. Paul A. Batties, director, the ladies collect money yearly

Mrs. Perdue hosts report meet of Recorder Sponsors

Mrs. Fred Perdue, 1971-72 chairman of The Recorder Women Sponsors, was a very gracious hostess to the Sponsors the past Saturday when they met at her home to make their final reports for the 1971 Recorder Christmas Fund and to enjoy their Christmas meeting.

On hand to receive the reports were Mrs. George I. Temple, the staff coordinator, and Mrs. Marcus C. Stewart Sr., Sponsor and wife of the editor, Marcus C. Stewart Sr.

Mrs. Perdue's home was beautifully decorated, and she served a delicious repast which the women enjoyed. This was an informal but important meeting during which the women submitted their final reports against a background of the singing of Christmas carols.

The names of all contributors will be published in the Christmas issue of The Recorder.

corder, Mrs. Paul A. Batties, the director of The Recorder Women Sponsors and vice-president of the board of Recorder Charities Inc., was not present due to the present bereavement of the family honoring the recent passing of their beloved father, Curtis F. Terry.

She sent words of appreciation to each Sponsor for her loyal support and for a job well done in soliciting the loyal support of community friends.

Mrs. Mills leaves Strauss to accept managerial post

"I like to make a woman look her best" and this particular adage will continue when Mrs. Priscilla Mills officially becomes manager of the Gidding-Jenny Department Store, Monday, Dec. 20, in Lexington, Ky.

The young woman has practiced this feeling during her 10 years of employment at the L. Strauss Company of Indianapolis, an affiliate of Gidding-Jenny.

The Lexington store is a brand new specialty shop featuring the most fashionable lady's apparel. It is located on the Fayette Mall and just opened Nov. 15.

Mrs. Mills left Thursday, Dec. 16, to assume her duties after bidding her boss, James Shaw, and fellow employees "au revoir." Mr. Shaw, who recommended Mrs. Mills for the managerial appointment, is manager of the downtown and mall stores for L. Strauss.

"I found it most delightful and have enjoyed every minute of it. I have found everyone here very cooperative in all ways," the new official said of L. Strauss locally.

After Mrs. Mills applied for employment at L. Strauss 10 years ago, she was trained in all phases of department store work as it applies to women's wear.

She started in receiving and stock and also held the following positions: sales girl in the sportswear and career

Chatting with the F.A.C.

By ELSA JACKSON

The last regular meeting of the FAC for the year of 1971 was indeed quite a thriller. A very large attendance of affiliated clubs was in evidence. Likewise, a number of the fellow travelers of the recent trip to Mexico was attended, as pictures were shown of the tour.

Much discussion was raised relative to the Indianapolis Transit System's pulling out of its bargain with the Coalition for Adequate Transportation. This involved senior citizens riding certain hours of the day for half fare on the trial basis. The FAC, being a member of the Coalition, received many varying points of view from its membership.

The election was held, and the following persons were re-elected for another year: Starling W. James, president; Chester Little and Owen Woolridge, vice-presidents; Cora Jenkins, recording secretary; Willora Morris, financial secretary; Margaret Reid, treasurer; John Dublinton, sergeant-at-arms, and George Washington, chaplain.

There were nine members to be elected to the board of directors. Their names will be given in next week's column.

The closing activity of the club will be a covered dish Christmas party Monday, Dec. 20 at 7 p.m. Each affiliated member is invited upon the presentation of a membership card and sufficient amount of food for five persons. There will be an exchange of Christmas gifts for those desiring. Mrs. Lou Ella Harper is general chairman. Those who are planning to attend but have not called in their covered dish as yet, please do so at once. A door prize of a chicken, duck, and turkey, will be given to the person holding the lucky number.

The Mr. and Mrs. Social Club, with John Metzger as president, met Saturday, Dec. 11, and carried Christmas greetings to its shut-in members, Mrs. Marie Overstreet, Owen Woolridge, and Mrs. Harriet Thompson. Mrs. Irene Metzger is chairman.

Happy birthday to the following members who have attended one of the FAC meetings at one time or another: Dec. 16, Mrs. Lillian M. Hadley; Dec. 19, Mrs. Frances Howard, Mrs. Odessa Jamerson, and Mrs. Dorothy Wells; Dec. 20, Mrs. Florence Bullock; Dec. 21, Mrs. Verdell Blackmon; Dec. 22, Mrs. Pearl Hayden; Dec. 24, Carl Holfield, and Dec. 25, Mrs. Margaret Howard, Mrs. Jamesella Boyd, and Larry Hutches.

The FAC Home will be the scene of the following activities during Christmas week: Dec. 18, Chit-Chat Bridge Club annual Christmas party in R y a n Room, Girl Scout meeting from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. in Aron Room, and Woolley and Jefferson Christmas party in Aron Room; Dec. 19, Paducah Club anniversary membership party, Mrs. Thelma Buren, chairman; Dec. 20, all FAC covered dish Christmas party in R y a n Room; Dec. 21, Gospel-Aires rehearsal, and the D.U.O.'s Club final meeting for year; Dec. 22, Angelic Travelers and FAC Male Chorus rehearsal; Dec. 23, Jordan-Aires rehearsal and final Girl Scout Cadettes meeting with Miss Mamie Forte, director, and Dec. 25, Extra Banquet Waiters of Hilton Hotel Christmas party in Aron Room.

Me-De-Phar Guild members mark Xmas

Fall has faded away and spring seems a long way off, but the happiest season of all is Christmas with the Me-De-Phar Guild.

The Guild set the pace with a formal Christmas dinner. Cocktails were served at the spacious home of Dr. and Mrs. Wilbert Washington. In spite of last Friday's inclement weather, the atmosphere of Xmas greeted the guests.

From there they caravanned to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Scobie Linthecome.

They were greeted by the president, Mrs. Raymond Pierce, and Mrs. Linthecome to a smorgasbord dinner.

Guests were enchanted by the glamorous yuletide decorations. In the spacious dining room the tables were decorated with Christmas candles enveloped with antique chimeyans. In the rest of the home traditional decorations as well as trees were glorified by the beautiful icicle bulbs from Hong Kong. The evening was enjoyed by all.

Leading the delegation coming to this city Dec. 3-4 to welcome their new "sisters" were Sorors Dorothea Walker, grand basileus, and Thelma Cooper, immediate past regional director, both of Cleveland, Ohio, and Sorors Mae Curry, a founder; Pennie Burden, past grand basileus; Mabel Anderson, Wilhelmina Welch, Beatrice E. Out-of-towners in city to see new grandchild

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Runyon of Bluefield, W. Va., returned home Saturday, Dec. 4, after spending a week with their son and his family, Dr. and Mrs. David Peters of 249 Buckingham Dr., and Little Misses Susan Marie and Kathryn Lee Peters.

The occasion for the most timely and pleasant visit of The Runyons was to be with Mr. S. Peters who recently came home from Coleman Hospital where she gave birth to Kathryn Lee on Nov. 21.

THE SMILING faces of these ladies reflect the happiness they experienced after becoming local charter members of the newly-organized Alpha Xi Chapter of Eta Phi Beta Sorority recently. Eta Phi Beta Sorority has new chapter in this city Delightful out-of-town officials and representatives of Eta Phi Beta, a prominent business and professional women's sorority, were on hand in the Hoosier Capitol recently to initiate prospective members of the newly-organized local Alpha Xi Chapter.

The organizational activities by local pledges, under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude Milton, sponsor, were climaxed by the ceremonious initiation.

Saturday morning, under the gracious assistance of Recorder church columnist, Miss Willa Thomas, the "girls" enjoyed breakfast at the L. U. Medical Center. Miss Thomas presented each with an honorary citizenship certificate and a kit of gifts. The certificates were signed by Mayor Richard G. Lugar.

and Lila Mae Noble, all of Detroit, Mich.

Sessions at the Federation of Associated Clubs Inc. began on Friday evening with "hazing" followed by a delicious meal prepared by the prospective affiliates. It included chicken ala king served with rice rings, a salad, and hot rolls.

The local sponsor, Mrs. Milton, has been a member for 29 years. In addition to this chapter, she founded another, Zeta Chapter, in Columbus, Ohio. She was chairman of the grand boulevards in 1962 in Columbus and is a former member of Alpha Chapter of Detroit. An added pleasure of the breakfast for Mrs. Milton was renewing old friendship with Mrs. Frances "sisters."

Increasing the membership of the nationally respected sorority were Doris J. Duncan, president; Dora Glass, Brenda Ward, Mary Sherwood, and Adrienne Y. Larkins. A social period followed the initiation when the old and new sorors could mingle to become close friends with sisterly love for each other.

Cast is talented in production of comedy

You missed a real treat if you weren't in the audience to greatly enjoy the Hillside Cultural Center's production of Charles Russell's "Five on the Blackhand Side" the past weekend.

The three-act comedy of black family life and relevance was presented under the direction of Rev. Mose Laderon. It proved to be a delightful and entertaining drama featuring a cast of superb actors and actresses. So gratifying was public response that Rev. Laderon said the play might be given again on behalf of college students and others who missed it.

The lighting, setting, and music were timely and blended in perfectly with each act and were effective in creating the perfect atmosphere for the talented cast. The set design was by William Cunningham. Those in the play were personally trained by Rev. Laderon - the results were marvelous. The diction and physical reactions of the various cast members were sound.

The leading roles were held by Helen C. Whitlow and Glenn S. White. Others in the cast were Loretta Wade, Ronald E. Taylor, Gale Barnes, Cassandra Steele, Leonard Hayes, Jo Ruffin, Hedy Williams, Mose Laderon Jr., Clarence L. Johnson, Dale Wright, Cor-

Mrs. Margaret Reid retires from Lilly

To commemorate her 43 years of employment in the building service department of Eli Lilly and Company, fellow employees feted the modest Mrs. Margaret Woodson Reid at a retirement party recently. She officially "wrote 30" to her career Nov. 30.

A smorgasbord, including two tables of assorted foods, was served to the honoree and guests. Accent was a white cake on which Mrs. Reid's name was inscribed. The northside lady was the recipient of lovely gifts and money.

Although admitting that it will be nice to sleep late in the mornings, Mrs. Reid strongly pointed out that she plans to remain active in many organizations including S. T. Paul Baptist Church where Rev. C.J. Dalley is pastor. Other groups to receive her devout service are Union

Gay Xmas decorations dot Twelve Gems dance

Celebrating the oncoming yuletide season were popular members of the Twelve Gems Club when they entertained over 250 guests at their semi-annual holiday ball at the IBEW Hall.

"Merry Christmas" greeted the joy-makers as they entered the festively decorated hall. A gold satin banner stretched across the stage bearing the silver tiara emblem and name of the Twelve Gems. Gold streamers ran lengthwise of each table and centerpiece were gold and white net Christmas trees dotted with miniature, multi-colored balls.

On either side of the Christmas tree stood tall, tapered gold candles encircled with miniature red and green poinsettia wreaths. Each guest had gold and white napkins and matches embossed with the club's tiara emblem.

Members and guests enjoyed dancing to the music of the sensational Imperials from Dayton, Ohio, who during the course of the evening did a beautiful rendition of the very popular theme song, "Shaft."

A FRESH LOOK AT FRESHNESS... Many people are not informed about how to store fresh produce to be at its best, says the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association. Keep fresh vegetables cold and humid in the refrigerator. Humidity can be achieved by storing fresh vegetables in a film bag, or in the crisper compartment. Do not allow produce to become so moist that it shows droplets of water as this brings about deterioration.

INEZ KAISER

Hints For Homemakers

I really have a busy schedule during this time of year, with so many business responsibilities and social activities. This is also the time when I spend a lot of time on college campuses.

One thing I rely upon to get me off to a good start each day is my morning LIFEBOUY bath. LIFEBOUY is loaded with active deodorant ingredients that keep you feeling fresh all day.

Your skin feels really clean after a LIFEBOUY bath or shower. I'm not much of a taker of showers, but my niece Joyce really is. She also loves LIFEBOUY and assures me that she gets that same clean, fresh feeling after her shower. And she, too, is always talking about how much she likes LIFEBOUY's long-lasting deodorant protection.

We both like LIFEBOUY's nice fresh scent that doesn't compete with the fragrance of any perfume we might want to use.

We were discussing just the other day how well LIFEBOUY's colors go with our bathroom decors. She has a green bathroom and uses the green bar. I prefer the coral or white for my blue bathroom.

LIFEBOUY is good for the menfolk, too, because of its long-lasting protection and not too feminine fragrance.

IMPERIAL FLAVOR BEATS ALL

Once I get my day off to a good beginning, I'm ready for a light breakfast. Since I'm usually pushed for time, I just have coffee and toast with a generous spread of energy-giving IMPERIAL margarine.

Personally, I prefer DIET IMPERIAL because I fight a constant weight battle. DIET IMPERIAL has 50% less calories than regular margarine because it has half the fat content.

Something else I really like about DIET or SOF-SPREAD IMPERIAL is the fact that it is always so nice and soft. Just take it out of the refrigerator, remove the lid from the nicely decorated container and it's ready to use. There's no need to let it set or transfer to another container for the table.

Another nice thing about DIET IMPERIAL is that you can actually fry with it. Just melt it over a low heat in a covered pan and when the sizzling stops you're ready to fry your favorite food.

It melts beautifully atop potatoes and other vegetables, too, giving them a fragrant and tasty flavor. There are no two ways about it, IMPERIAL really tastes good.

I find all sorts of uses for the reusable containers, too. They make very decorative catchalls for bobby pins, stamps, pins, paper clips and many other items.

And special holiday packs, with holly-berry designs, are now being introduced for SOF-SPREAD IMPERIAL. These make wonderful containers for Christmas candies and cookies.

CLOSE-UP IS FOR CLOSE-UPS

On one particular morning I was scheduled to give a talk to a seminar of college students. So the last thing I did before leaving home was to brush my teeth with CLOSE-UP, which is really a toothpaste and mouthwash in one.

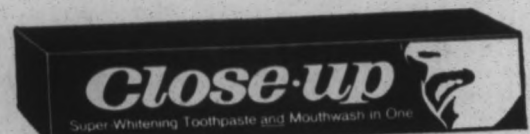

The one thing that a person in my line of work cannot afford is offensive breath. Of course, this is something no one wants, but it's a must to avoid when you are in constant and often close contact with people as I am.

I'm so glad that Lever Brothers came out with CLOSE-UP because it really makes life a lot more easy and simple. For someone always on the go, CLOSE-UP provides real protection for your teeth as well as your breath.

And since I'm usually in a rush, the fact that it is a dentifrice and mouthwash in one saves me time and energy. One act will do it all without any fuss or bother. And CLOSE-UP keeps my teeth nice and white.

CLOSE-UP is one of the things I like to tell college groups about. I am sure the students have seen the commercials, but an advertisement always gets across better when someone you know has used the product and is enthusiastic about it.

Young men and women these days are so conscious about having white teeth that they will be glad to hear that CLOSE-UP whitens and brightens teeth just as effectively as the leading toothpaste and freshens the breath as well as the leading mouthwash.

I can also turn them on talking about its unusual clear appearance, too. And they can now choose between a red or mint-green formula.

They really sit up and take notice when I bring CLOSE-UP into the section of my talk on dating and social life. They quickly understand what I mean when I say that CLOSE-UP is for a "CLOSE-UP smile," especially when I give them some personal examples.

Things like studying in the library, for instance, or sipping a soda at the student union or slow dancing at a mixer or, better still, going to the drive-in movies.

Don't misunderstand, I'm not getting lost on a selling pitch during these talks. When I get enthused about something I just have to tell others about it.

I know that CLOSE-UP gets teeth white, freshens breath and makes you ready for those close-up moments. That's why I say: "Right on with CLOSE-UP!"

A&P

It's America's most popular! Why?

We think it's excellence of product. Years and years ago, when we decided to bake Jane Parker Fruit Cake, we also decided to bake the best. That's why Jane Parker Fruit Cake was then and is today over 2/3 fruits and nuts.

Just enough cake to hold together the bounty of imported and domestic cherries, pineapple from the Far East, citron from the Caribbean, sun-drenched raisins from California and meaty pecans from the South.

We think, too, that value has made it popular. IMAGINE THE 5-LB. CAKE COSTS ONLY $4.99. That's dollars less than you might expect to pay for such a fine fruit cake.

Now you know why Jane Parker Fruit Cake is America's most popular. One other thing you should know: You can buy it only at A&P.

P.S. Wouldn't it make a great gift for someone?

AN APPRECIATION

MRS. NETTIE SCOTT-KING

Dearest Friends,
Again I am perplexed as to how I may thank you for your many kind remembrances while I was confined at the Riverside Hospital in Nashville, Tennessee.

Many of your cards are real works of art. Others are what you had on hand. Many were written with pencil, some have been forgotten yourselves completely in thinking of me and have left off your names and addresses. But I adore them all, not one more than the other. Pen, pencil, or quill, what care I? It's not how you write, but the words you indicate that gives my heart a thrill. Thanks! Thanks! Thanks! Each of you.

May the approaching Christmas and New Year bring you a full share of God's choicest Blessings.

Very sincerely yours,
Nettie Scott-King
Lord Bless you and keep you.
What greeting shall I send you
As I think of you today?
For the wish that I would wish you
Goes far beyond what I can say.

Yet unspoken thoughts rise heavenwards
In silence, when we pray,
I will breathe my intercession
Before God's Altar Throne
And the best wish I can wish you
Shall be told to Him alone,
And the best thoughts I can send you
Is from Him and not my own.

And your names shall be remembered
In the blessed Presence There
Where remembrances are sacred,
And each memory holds a prayer,
And where loving thoughts shall leave you
In a loving Father's Care.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary trouble and trials are past,
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore
Till God called her home to suffer no more.
We mourned for her in silence
No eyes can see us weep,
But many a silent tear is shed
While others are asleep.

'PACERS THREE': The name of the Indianapolis entry in the American Basketball Association is the Indiana Pacers and this trio typifies the name. All three are from Indiana. They are (from left) Rick Mount, former "Mr. Basketball" from Lebanon high school and Purdue; Marvin Winkler from Indianapolis Washington who played last season with the Milwaukee Bucks of the NBA, and Mike Price from Indianapolis Arsenal Technical, signed last week by the Pacers after being released by the New York Knicks of the NBA. Pacers, Pros clash Friday at Coliseum

The Indiana Pacers, now five games behind the division leading Utah Stars in the race for the Western Division title will try to improve on their 16-12 record this week while playing four games in five days.

After losing to Kentucky and Virginia last weekend, the Pacers will return to the Coliseum Friday night for a contest with the Memphis Pros, and then take on the Floridians in Miami Saturday night. They were scheduled to play Dallas Tuesday and Wednesday nights, with the last meeting scheduled at Anderson. The Pacers lost two and won one in three days of action last week. They dropped a 103-101 decision to Kentucky at the Coliseum, lost a 118-114 contest to the Squires at Norfolk, Va., and then took a 105-96 victory over the Floridians back at the Coliseum. The game with the Colonels, as expected, was a thriller. Coach Bob Leonard and his assistant were thrown out of the game for arguing with

Lakers set new NBA win mark

INGLEWOOD, Calif.,----- Despite being written off as too old by many observers, The Los Angeles Lakers broke a National Basketball Association record Sunday night in winning their 21st straight game in defeating the Atlanta Hawks, 104-95.

Gail Goodrich scored 32 points and Wilt Chamberlain pulled down 24 rebounds as the Lakers, whose record stood 27-3 after the win, broke the consecutive game record set by the Milwaukee Bucks last season at 20.

Jerry West, the Lakers' 12-year veteran guard, added 26 points while second year man Jim McMillan tallied 19.

OFF TO COLLEGE: Ron Fleming, star guard for Coach Cliff Ransom's Atterbury Tigers basketball team, has received a basketball scholarship to Erie Community College in Buffalo, N. Y. He averaged 25 points per game at Atterbury.

Hoosiers, Irish to battle in Assembly Hall dedication tilt

The Steve Downing-led Indiana Hoosiers will take on the Irish of Notre Dame Saturday afternoon in a contest which will dedicate I. U. 's new Assembly Hall.

The Hoosiers, ranked 12th in the nation after defeating previously 6th ranking Kentucky last Saturday night, were scheduled to take on Ohio University Wednesday night at Athens, Ohio.

The Hoosiers feature an attack centered around 6-foot-7 Steve Downing, who is rapidly developing into the Big Ten's premier center.

He personally handled the Kentucky defense in the 90-89 double overtime victory over the Wildcats, scoring 47 points and hauling in 25 rebounds before a packed house in Louisville's Freedom Hall.

Big Steve, who has spent

Tigers face Tech, Gary Roosevelt this weekend

Crispus Attucks will face Tech and Gary Roosevelt, and Cathedral will take on Chatard in three games which will highlight action involving city high school basketball teams this weekend.

Attucks, a young team which raised its record to 3-1 with a 95-48 win over Seeclina, last Saturday night, will play Tech Friday night at the Attucks gym, commonly referred to as "the pit."

The Tigers, who lost to Northwest the week before on a poor shooting night, ripped the nets on the home court for 61 percent in its 47 point victory over the Crusaders, who are now 2-3.

Balanced scoring seems to be the Tigers' strong point as five players placed in double figures led by Tony Mitchell with 17 points, Dave Lisenby had 14, Derek Force and Dick McQuire 13 each, and Ben Brown 12.

The Titans played one game last weekend and emerged victorious, 70-67, over Ben Davis to push their record to 4-1.

Ben Davis, now 2-3, was down by 16 points midway the third period but came roaring back to trail only 69-67 near the end of the contest on the Giants' floor.

Mike Harris and Arthur Johnson placed the Titans with 25 and 19 points respectively.

Attucks will face powerful and undefeated Roosevelt in the Panthers' new gym Saturday night. Roosevelt, considered one of the state powers, has won five straight games and was ranked 16th in last week's Associated Press poll.

The Titans will face 12th ranking Anderson Madison

Heights on Saturday in a road contest.

Undefeated 8th ranking Cathedral (5-0) will have its hands full against upset-minded Chatard Saturday night on the Trojan's home court.

The Irish handed previously unbeaten Brebeuf its first loss of the season last Friday night in a 83-61 contest at the Braves' gym.

The following night Chatard, now 4-1 and improving, surprised previously unbeaten and 4th ranking Shortridge, 57-51, in the first game of a double-header at Hinkle Fieldhouse.

Arlington upset Northwest, 67-57, in the second contest.

Sophomore center Jim Tucker was the key to the Chatard victory as he hit on 10 of 18 fielders. The Trojans fired .477 from the field on 21 of 44 attempts.

Shortridge didn't do badly on 22 of 53 but center Charles Jordan was the only Blue Devil in double figures with 23 points.

Arlington, led by Larry Savage, fired .462 from the floor in handling Northwest its first defeat in six games. The Golden Knights won their sixth in a row.

"Power concedes nothing without a demand — it never did and it never will. Find out just what people will submit to, and you've found out the exact amount of injustice and wrong which will be imposed upon them. This will continue until they resist, either with words or blows or both. The limits of tyrants are prescribed by the endurance of those whom they oppress."

...The Faith of Ralph Bunche

For Americans and many others, Ralph J. Bunche was a personification of the United Nations, which he served capably and selflessly for nearly a quarter-century. The decisive role he played in some of the U. N.'s more spectacular political successes had made him almost a symbol of the United Nations at its best.

His life was a striking fulfillment of the American dream: the poor black boy, orphaned early, who overcame both poverty and racial prejudice, reaching the highest academic level through brilliance and hard work, spending his talents prodigally for a generation in the service, not just of his own country, but of all countries and the cause of peace.

Dr. Bunche undoubtedly will be remembered longest for stepping into the breach left by the assassination of Count Bernadotte and painfully, relentlessly hammering out the armistice between Israel and the Arab states in 1949. This was the achievement that won him the Nobel Peace Prize and a host of other honors; but it revealed something of his practical side as a diplomat and his vision as a statesman that he took even greater satisfaction from organizing the United Nations peace force that acted successfully as a buffer in the Middle East for more than a decade.

"For the first time," he said in explanation, "we have found a way to use military men for peace instead of war." For many who came in contact with him the most impressive thing about Dr. Bunche was not his skill as mediator and conciliator, great as that was, but a faith in the United Nations that never flagged despite its failures and disappointments.

It was this faith that Lord Caradon underscored in a memorable tribute to Dr. Bunche as "one of the greatest Americans." For more than two decades, said Lord Caradon, "in spite of all kinds of difficulties and discouragements, he has set an example to us all, an example of courage and indefatigable effort."

Through his long and debilitating recent illness, which forced his retirement from the U. N. a few weeks ago, Dr. Bunche maintained that courage and kept that faith. His memory should be an inspiration to the peacemakers, but it is sadly ironic that his death should occur just as the U. N. stands helplessly by as the outbreak of a new and savage war in Asia.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Vacationers: Beware!

To give his family a summer-time treat, Ernest piled them into a trailer and drove to a nearby lake. Renting space in a trailer park, he settled down for two carefree weeks.

But on the day of departure, Ernest came down with a galloping case of poison ivy. In fact, it was so severe that he determined to claim damages from the management of the trailer park.

"The poison ivy was growing right there on the premises," Ernest charged in court. "It was up to them, as owners of the land, to get rid of it."

However, the court decided that Ernest had no legal kick coming.

"The city dweller who chooses to spend his vacation in the great outdoors," said the court, "must assume the risks of the outdoors such as mosquitoes, snakes, poison ivy, and other natural conditions not found in the urban communities."

Still, even in the "great outdoors," the vacationer does not assume risks he could not reasonably foresee. In another case, a camper in Yellowstone National Park was bitten by a rambunctious grizzly bear. Park rangers had reason to suspect that a dangerous bear was at large, but they had given the camper no special warning about the situation.

Accordingly, a court held the federal government liable for the accident. The court said the camper should have been given enough facts "to provide an opportunity for an intelligent choice as to whether he wished to incur the risk."

Nor does a vacationer assume the risk of outright negligence by those in charge. Thus:

At a lake resort, a woman bather cut her foot badly on a fragment of glass just offshore. Early that morning, the cleanup man had found and removed several broken bottles on the beach nearby. But he had neglected to find out whether any of the glass had found its way into the water.

The woman later sued the owner of the resort for damages, and the court ruled in her favor. The court said her injury was not due to any hazard of the great outdoors, produced by Nature, but to plain and simple carelessness, produced by man.

White supremacy in Southern Africa

RHODESIAN SELLOUT:

The British government recently announced that it reached agreement with the tiny white minority of 243,000 that rules over 5 million black Rhodesians who have no say in their country. Black leaders have been jailed for their desire for independence and majority rule, and the black majority has been ruthlessly confined to poverty in laboring, farming, and servant's jobs.

The new agreement provides for independence, a new constitution, and more black representation in parliament, but the catch is that blacks will have to meet financial and property qualifications to get the vote. Ultimately, there would be a 50-50 white-black split in Parliament, and then the possibility of majority rule will be considered, but it will be subject to white veto.

That the whole deal is a dodge to provide a veneer of constitutionality for continued white supremacy is made clear by the Rhodesian premier's statement that "they (blacks) will not be in control then and I don't believe they will be fit to be in control." He couldn't say what the situation would be "in 100 years' time or 1,000 years' time."

Southern Africa is a powder keg that is bound to blow up in not too many years. The black majority, like their brothers in other African nations, will be free even if it takes the kind of protracted guerilla warfare now seen in the Portuguese territories. The question for America is: "which side are we on?" Do we really believe in democracy and majority rule or will we continue to support the white minorities and colonialists who dominate the black majority? Africa is the invisible continent of American foreign policy, and it's about time that we formulated a consistent policy of support for black African governments and withdrawal of our backing of colonialist powers and rump settler rule.

WELFARE FACTS:

The largest racial group of welfare recipients is white. Welfare families average almost as many children as other families. Most people on welfare are on the rolls for less than two years, then they go off it. "Cheating" amounts to less than one half of one percent of all recipients. Less than one percent of recipients are fathers capable of working. A great majority of the children in welfare families are legitimate.

All of the above are facts, despite the widespread assumptions that their opposites are true. Get the facts, don't fall for the myths. These facts are drawn from a U.S. Government publication "Welfare Myths vs. Facts," "single copies of which are available free from Publications and Distribution Section, H.E.W., 330 C Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20201."

SPINGARN DIES:

The death last week of Arthur B. Spingarn, former president of the NAACP and one of its founders, removes a historic figure from the scene. It also serves to remind all of us that white people have played a vital and important role in the development of the civil rights movement. And it serves as a reminder that men like Mr. Spingarn and his associates were pioneering in this area long before most of us were born.

Let's never forget, no matter how "militant" we are, that we stand on the shoulders of those who went before us, and we must honor their courage and their leadership. We must rededicate ourselves to the cause, so that those who follow us will be as proud and grateful as we are those who preceded us.

CAN'T AFFORD REFORM?

The tax cut bill coming out of the Congress will mean a loss of federal revenues amounting to $26 billion over the next three years. Why? If that money were put into homebuilding, education, and income maintenance, we'd be well on the way toward a poverty-free society. And all the while, we hear that the government can't afford programs of domestic reform.

Happy hucksters' holiday!

The 25th of December is upon us. We cannot stop it, but it can stop us financially, spiritually and morally. It has been given the very sacred name of Christmas and, for many centuries, the churches which call themselves Christian have tried to get their communicants to celebrate it as the birthday of the founder of the Christian Faith.

And for the same period of time the merchants and the purveyors of goods and services have set it a part as the time to be jolly because of the increased revenue which it brings. The end result has been that as time has gone on the holiday has become more and more pagan until today most denizens of Christendom give slight attention to the religious significance of the day while enhancing upon the pagan aspects of it.

To begin with, the average American citizen, Christian, Jew or religiously unclassified, send out dozens of gaily decorated cards with canned verses wishing "A Merry Christmas" to friends and slight acquaintances. Usually after the great day, it is necessary to send some more cards to those from whom one has unexpectedly received one.

Next it is necessary to decorate one's house with real or artificial trees and greenery in the manner of Germanic barbarians of the pre-Christian era, and string up from dozens to hundreds of brilliantly colored lights, much to the joy of the electric utility.

Then there is the business of "Christmas shopping." This takes the form of buying presents for one's spouse, children, various and sundry relatives and close or doubtful friends. Very often this giving is based upon an expectation of receiving a gift in return from each recipient of a gift that one sends out. Tragically, often the gifts are bought on credit or on borrowed money and it is often late in the New Year when they are finally paid for. Most Christmas givers give what they can afford plus a certain percent.

And of course one must purchase food as though it were going out of style, and then one must lay in a supply of beverages—usually alcoholic not because one is addicted to drink, but because of the friends who might drop in. Restricted diets are usually forgotten as one stuffs and imbibes.

And of course the media—newspapers, magazines and radio and television, please their advertisers by emphasizing the importance of shopping early and hoodwink their readers, listeners or viewers by putting on special Christmas programs including dramatic recounting of the Christmas story and oodles of Christmas carols.

The churches in the meantime gently proclaim the anniversary of the Carpenter's Son of Nazareth and put on cantatas and Christmas plays, usually on the Sunday before Christmas, when a significant percentage of their members dutifully show up out of habit. They may make allusions to the Prince of Peace while failing to mention the ever presence of war. They may allude to the Saviour of mankind without mentioning the millions who are daily facing the hells of war, drugs, pestilence, poverty and ignorance.

And the churches usually do a token service to Jesus's admonition to love one's neighbor by giving out to the poor a few baskets of food, enough to last for a few days after which the poor can be left to their own devices.

A few years ago it was very popular for churches to give wide circulation to the slogan "put Christ back into Christmas." This slogan was remarkable for two reasons—the first being that the celebration has always been more pagan than Christian, and the other being, had the church at last come to grips with the fact that Christmas belongs to the hucksters and not to the churches' owing their allegiance to Jesus Christ.

Several years later the holiday is still firmly controlled by commercial interests and any relation between it and the Christian religion is strictly coincidental. The churches should not lament too much—there are three hundred sixty-four other days when they can wage Christianity!

THE VOICE FROM THE GALLERY HOPES FOR ALL HIS READERS THE BEST AND SANEST OF HOLIDAYS EVER

Our Readers Write An open letter to the mayor of Indianapolis

To The Editor:

"It would seem advisable to have our swearing in ceremony before Jan. 1! This is the rather open-ended memo which was sent from Council President Thomas Hasbrook, to all Councilmen — elect and so the ceremony took place on Dec. 6 and the basic question of advisable by whom or by what circumstances remains unanswered. In the absence of any kind of rationale for this unprecedented ceremony, a great deal of latitude is left for enlightened speculation and conjecture."

The Unigov Act (Sections 306 and 307) clearly spells out the initiation date and termination date of the Councils. The following points are easily gleaned from these sections of the statute.

1. The term of members on the present Council expire on Dec. 31, 1971.
2. The terms of new members begin Jan. 1, 1972.
3. A vacancy on the Council is said to exist when a member dies, resigns, removes his residence or becomes incapacitated.
4. "A vacancy in the office of any member shall be filled by the unexpired term by appointment of a majority of the remaining members of the City-County Council of any person meeting the qualifications..."

These points present some interesting and perhaps disillusioning possibilities. Relative to points 1 and 2 above, what are the effect of the December swearing? Obviously still legally exists. Have we now also brought a new council into legal existence. If indeed this is not the case, was there any need for such a ceremony and why is there already scheduled another such ceremony?

The more disillusioning possibilities of this very questionable episode relates to the vacancy factor mentioned in items 3 and 4 above. By creating a quasi-legal Council certain questions are raised about filling "vacancies" and the definition of a vacancy becomes very nebulous. The Unigov statute through implication and assumption indicates that any Councilman who begins a full term must be elected to office.

Vacancies which occur after a Councilman-elect becomes a Councilman are filled by a simple majority vote of the City-County Council. The question which becomes obviously apparent now is whether the December swearing was an effort to make Councilman out of Councilmen-elect for the specific purpose of handling the vacancy factor. If this has indeed been accomplished (and few persons would concede this point) then this means that in the event that something happens to a Councilman-elect the choice of a new Councilman to serve the complete four year term becomes the responsibility of the Council and not the people. Of primary significance here is the situation surrounding the Councilman who reportedly is being considered for the appointive position of Director of Public Safety. Councilman (and Councilman-elect) Bill Ieake was elected at large.

Theoretically this means that he was elected by all the people and not just the people of a single district. An election to replace him therefore would have to be a country-wide election. If this appointment becomes fact, if, on the other hand, the Dec. swearing defines him as Councilman on the new Council he can be replaced by a simple vote of Council.

If indeed any of these possibilities come to pass the new City-County Council as well as the people of Indianapolis can consider themselves as having been manipulated in the most blatant kind of way. This just doesn't sound like the way to give birth to a new system of government. Rozelle Boyd Councilman

Xmas gift to black women is poem written by Posey

To The Editor:

I am quite concerned with the depression some of our black and beautiful ladies are feeling in the belief that their black mates have deserted them for the white ladies and do not appreciate their beauty.

Enclosed is a poem which tells the gals how the real black men feel about it. I would appreciate your publishing the same in your paper as my Xmas gift to black womanhood everywhere. Une Femme Incroyablement Belle

The seat of affection and the moral life of a black woman are like water filled vessels in a subterranean caves of mother earth; Cushioning the footprints of suffering and turbulence, that comes and goes with the tide...a happening - yet a while, out of hand; Spreading forth from its hollow bowels her weeping for the children she gave life in ages past; Only to have her creation maimed and disfigured, by the poison oaks - of bigotry.

In this careless land, where hawks swoop down to carry off her young to; to slave markets, undeclared wars, and preventative detentions; She has suffered agonizing traumas...lamenting, for her children lost. Like unto the good earth, she has lived out her life in silence and creation; In prudence and sound judgment - cultivating the essentials and demolishing the frivolousness in the nature of those, she has borne.

In this merciless land, locked in sweltering ghettos, she counsels the fatherless orphans...driving them to militant assertion, against the missionaries of hate...sworn to destroy her seed, by test of fire; If need be we watch this drama unfold and bear witness to a basic truth of the universe, as she husbands her strength and struggles to preserve the fruit of her womb, thereby insuring the propagation of our kind;

We belong to her as surely as she belongs to the good earth...and as surely as her heart belongs to us; As such we are the sound of music - stolen from a distant land...children of the sun nurtured in the bosom of the bush; We are the harvest of her seed, with bodies spread as graceful as her eagles; With minds cut as hard and as clear, as her diamonds.

Like her, we are now silent in the work of creation...and, as the appointed time will burst forth - giving life, beauty and new dimensions to the universe; That we will do so...only that we will do so, yet only...because she is our black mother...an underground stream, from which...all life...flowed. This week we take great pleasure in bringing to you, one of our Ol' Buddies, namely: JAMES (JIMMIE) COLLINS. He needs no introduction to Naptown's music-lovers. He started his professional career during the days of the 'Big Band' era (1930s-1940s). The cat wailed with some of the best bands in the land. During the early 1950s, Collins went out on his own as a single on the piano. Later, he claimed that he could make more 'cake' (money) by doing his 'thing' alone as a '88er. Since that time, he has never looked back... Believe Me!... "Mr. Piano," is currently making more musical fame and is reported to be one of the highest paid single attractions in the city. At this writing, he is playing niftily in the lounge of the Marrot Hotel. He digs the action on the new

Marvin Gaye winner of Music Trade Magazine's top honors

Motown recording star, Marvin Gaye, has swept the highest awards in all three of the major music trade magazines. The awards are given annually by the top three trade magazines.

The honors conferred on the Motown superstar were the result of his hit album, "What's Going On," which has been acclaimed a masterpiece of lyrical and social commentary. Gaye was named the number one Male Vocalist of the Year by Billboard Magazine. He also was the recipient of Billboard's "Trendsetter Award" for "doing and reaching more people on the ecology issue than any other recording artist."

the referee, and Captain Freddie Lewis wound up coaching the club.

The Pacers stormed from a 19-point deficit with 11 minutes remaining to pull within a point, 101-100, with 54 seconds remaining when Kentucky's Jim O'Brien hit a pair of free throws.

Rick Mount, who had 20 points and a pair of three-pointers, fired outside the 20-foot line but was off. Roger Brown fouled on the rebound and Cincy Powell went to the charity stripe with a pair. He missed both opportunities and Indiana called time out after getting the ball.

The Hoosiers then inserted four guards--Freddie Lewis, Marvin Winkler, Billy Keller and Mount along with center Mel Daniels. Winkler took a three-point attempt with three seconds remaining and was fouled by Walt Simon as he missed the shot.

He was given three opportunities to make two at the free throw stripe, missed the first, hit the second and purposely missed the third, but Kentucky rebounded and the game ended.

Artis Gilmore paced the Colonels with 34 points, hitting 15 of 22 attempts from the floor. Dan Issel netted 21, Louie Dampier 17 and Powell 13.

It was Charlie Scott and Company's turn the following night as the Pacers trailed by as much as 18 points before charging back to a 108-105 deficit with 4:08 remaining. Once again, Coach Leonard was ejected while repudiating, rather vigorously, the call of a referee against his team with 9:01 remaining in the contest. Charlie Scott paced the Squires with 41 points, but it was veteran Ray Scott who destroyed the Pacers. He hit eight of Virginia's last 10 points to assure the win.

The Pacers led all the way Saturday night in defeating the Floridians, playing with the services of injured Warren Jabali and Ron Franz, 105-96. Freddie Lewis paved the way with 32 points.

a 74-74 deadlock. He hit on 19 of 35 from the floor and 9 of 12 from the charity stripe in netting a new career high.

Joby Wright, who ran into early foul trouble, tallied 13 points, making just 6 of 16 from the floor. Frank Wilson was the only other Hoosier in double figures with 10 points. Kentucky placed five players in double figures with 6-11 center Jim Andrews getting 22.

Downing now has scored 31, 16, 22, and 47 points in I.U.'s four games for an average of 29 points, and has boosted his rebounding average to 17 per game.

The Hoosiers will be in Indianapolis next Wednesday night, Dec. 22, to face Butler University before journeying to Norfolk, Va., to participate in the Kiwanis-Old Dominion Classic with Old Dominion, Brigham Young and Rice.

Ad Council names UNCF as 'major' campaign for '72

The advertising Council has accepted the United Negro College Fund as a major campaign for 1972 and 1973. Directors of the Council voted approval of the fund at a Nov. 17 meeting and named Young & Rubicam as the voluntary agency to carry out the UNCF's campaign.

Vernon E. Jordan Jr., former executive director of The UNCF, called the acceptance "of absolute major importance" to the fund.

Jordan said that "for the first time, the College Fund will be able to reach the mass American public through the full media facilities which the Ad Council makes available."

The UNCF will be one of only some 20 organizations accorded this select status. This means it will receive year-round exposure on television, radio, print ads, transportation advertising and all other media.

Other well-known major campaigns which the Ad Council sponsors include "Smoky the Bear" for the U.S. Forest Service, Traffic Safety, Red Cross, Peace Corps and the United Fund. The UNCF will be the only black-oriented group among the major campaigns.

Last year, the campaigns endorsed by the council received approximately $450,000,000 in free advertising.

The UNCF is seeking $100,000,000 in 1971 to aid 10 predominantly black colleges. Cyrus R. Vance, former U.S. negotiator at the Paris peace talks, is national campaign chairman.

Arlin Fletcher is the new UNCF executive director.

People are smarter than computers.

Sure, computers are wizards with facts and figures. They can spell sarsaparilla. Tell you what's the capital of Afghanistan. And instantly figure out your income tax or how many triples Babe Ruth hit in 1928. But no computer can invent, build, operate and maintain itself. That takes people. Bright people.

And as RCA grows to a $4 billion a year business, talented people grow with us. "If you think clearly, you can work with computers," says Mr. Murrel Freeman, Manager of RCA's Los Angeles Computer Center. "The opportunity is there." Murrel, who is only 28 years old, joined RCA eight years ago. He's helped us build our L.A. Center from the ground up. Now this five-story center houses three of the 83 computers in RCA's worldwide management information system. "We handle all computer processing for RCA's west coast divisions," Murrel says. "We also help other companies with their management information requirements," Murrel explains. "We analyze their management problems and data processing needs. And provide computer equipment and programs, or custom-design special systems." Right now, Murrel supervises thirty computer specialists. They are tape librarians, key punch operators, programmers, computer operators. They are people. People smarter than computers for duty with the Third Marine Division on Okinawa.

Frozen food should be transferred from soggy cardboard boxes to a moisture-vapor proof plastic container to lock moisture in and keep air out.

While it is considered wiser not to thaw frozen vegetables prior to cooking (to prevent possible loss of vitamin content and spoilage), there are a few exceptions. For example, corn-on-the-cob, if not thawed before cooking, will be either over-cooked or icy in the center.

Leafy vegetables will be uniform if thawed just enough to separate the leaves. If a com-mercially frozen vegetable is being used, directions on the package will be a good guide to follow.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis McGhee are very proud of their son, Tim, as he grows to be a young man.

Tim was born with a congenital birth defect of the hip and his parents were told surgery would be necessary. Louis McGhee worked hard to provide for his family. With the $80-dollar-a-month rent for a three-room apartment, and other family expenses, coupled with the already mounting medical expenses, there was no money left for surgery.

Mr. McGhee was employed with Ralph Tying, who was a Shriner, and suggested they have Tim admitted to the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children in St. Louis. The father took the advice.

Mrs. McGhee says she will never forget, because they not only admitted Tim, but sent her along to be with him. The process was a long one. From the age of three, when treatment first began, until Tim was pronounced sound, some ten years and fourteen operations elapsed. The expense was borne by the Shrine, which raises money through the year like the Shrine Circus. They always provided Tim with the best of care available.

Tim attended Delaware School before enrolling in the trade and industry course at North High. Mrs. McGhee is proud of the progress Tim has made over the years and proudly displays two trophies he won, one when seven years old and another when eight. Both were won at camps where he was able to attend, "because the Shriners helped him." "Not only did the Shriners pay for the hospital and medical bills," state Mrs. McGhee, "but went out of their way to help us in other ways." Tim, who takes an active part in the community now, is a member of the New Hope Baptist Church Choir. Mrs. McGhee says she hears so much about racial trouble and discrimination, "but as long as there are people like the Shriners helping folks like us, white or black, I'm not worried."

The McGhee family resides at 848 Bellemeade Avenue.  Mrs. Ora Glass, of Henderson, Ky., widow of the late Dr. J. G. Glass, died at 4:30 p.m. the past Saturday in Community Methodist Hospital. Funeral services at the time of this writing were being completed at Reeder Funeral Home.

Mrs. Glass was a school teacher for many years and a faithful church worker.

Survivors include a son, Edward Sr., of Hopkinsville; a daughter, Miss Dorothy F. Glass, of Chicago, and a grandson. ***

A $10,000 fund campaign for the United Negro College Fund was launched here at a luncheon of about 65 business, civic and educational leaders the past week.

The drive, part of a $10 million national goal, is to aid 36 Negro Colleges where 40,760 students are now enrolled and where the average family income is below $4,000.

The luncheon, held at the Executive Inn, marked the first time the United Negro College Fund drive was launched in such a manner. William Persons, who was here for the kick-off and who is state chairman of the drive, said it was the largest attended kick-off in the state. The luncheon was hosted by Mead Johnson and Company, and Dr. J. M. Tuholski, its president, introduced the co-chairman. The company also gave the first $1,000 toward the drive. The Negro Colleges all have some white students—they are not limited to Negroes.

First black woman apprentice at Texas Army depot is mechanic

Repairing combat vehicles is all in a day's work for Mrs. Ernie Starling at the Red River Army Depot near Texarkana.

She's the first woman to complete the Labor Department's apprenticeship program at the Texas installation, and she chose to be a combat vehicle mechanic.

"I wasn't sure how I'd do in some parts of the training—welding scared me at first," she says. "But I found it all interesting."

"And I wondered how my new co-workers would accept me when I completed my training. But I didn't have any problems. We get along fine."

Born at DeKalb, Tex., a small town just west of Texarkana, she was one of three children. Her father died when she was 15. Her mother now lives in Brooklyn, N.Y.

She had 12 years of schooling in DeKalb then got a job as a mechanic's helper at the Red River Army Depot.

One day she saw an announcement on the bulletin board concerning the apprenticeship program. As soon as possible, she took the examination, passed it, and was selected by an apprentice committee.

Clyde Aldridge, foreman of the Combat Reconditioning Section in which Mrs. Starling works, says she is a good employee and a good worker. "She can perform any duty on the assembly line."

Mrs. Starling says she plans to remain at Red River as long as she can and to advance herself as far as possible. She wants to give two children the best possible education and training so they can get good jobs too.

"Mrs. Starling is the first black woman ever to complete an apprenticeship training program here," says William G. Hogan, the Labor Department's apprenticeship and training representative in East Texas. "We're happy

Mrs. Starling, born in 1944, plans to continue living in DeKalb, a few miles from the Depot. Her husband, Wilbert Starling, works for a Government contractor in the area, and she notes, "all the Starling family lives in DeKalb."

Your professional hairdresser knows the answer...

Was haircoloring first done in Africa?

Centuries ago in Africa (before it was explored by Europeans) beautiful black women used herbs and other ingredients to change the color of their hair. It was one way to complement their dark rich complexions... to accent their natural warmth and beauty. Whether or not Africans were the first to use this method, no one is sure. Yet, they are among the first in terms of recorded history to go through the then-tedious process of coloring their hair.

Today changing your hair color can be as quick and as brief as a visit to your professional hairdresser. That's because many professional hairdressers use Miss Clairol® Hair Color to lighten hair, to make slight color changes and to cover gray. Hairdressing experts know that exotic blacks and browns are generally gorgeous for darker skin tones. Golden or red shades are stunning for lighter tan complexions.

Today black pride brings you closer to the cultural ways of your African heritage. Hair coloring is a part of black history too. Ask your professional hairdresser about changing your hair color with Miss Clairol... and be more beautiful than you already are.

ADL endorses housing plan

Grossinger's, N. Y.,... The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith came out "in overwhelming support" of the controversial scatter-site housing plan in Forest Hills, N.Y.

Lawrence Peirez, chairman of the agency's fact finding committee, said that those who oppose the low and moderate housing plan "have been agitated out of all proportion into baseless fears that their neighborhoods will be destroyed."

Peirez, who addressed the closing session of the League's 4-day policy-making meeting here, declared that "high crime and violence are problems from the police, not for housing developers." He said that "if a community fears a sudden epidemic of crime, representations should be made to police authorities, not to the builders of badly needed housing."

He added that "progress and peace in civil rights depend in large measure upon the acceptance of housing experimentation designed to bring Americans of every socio-economic level closer together as friends and as neighbors."

Peirez said "time will prove the wisdom of providing decent housing in decent neighborhoods for those who have been virtually disenfranchised in our country."

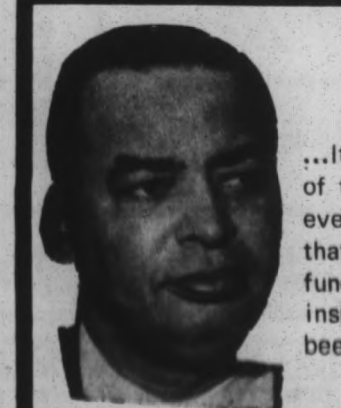

The League's national commission, a body of more than 100 agency leaders from all sections of the country, adopted a resolution "reaffirming ADL's support of the principle of integrated housing" and urging federal, state and city governments "to continue to implement low and moderate income, scatter-site public housing program, such as proposed."

Anderson church is reorganized under Rev. Tate

The impossible became possible on Oct. 17 when Rev. George N. Tate, pastor, and members of Wallace AMEZ Church of Anderson burned its $10,000 mortgage on the building.

Bishop Charles E. Tucker of the Fifth Episcopal District, Mayor Richard G. Lugar, and former Lt. Gov. Robert Rock participated in the ceremony. Bishop Tucker held the paper until the fire consumed it. Mayor Lugar and Mr. Rock praised Wallace Temple for the good work it has done.

Besides the church building, Rev. Tate's congregation owns a lot adjacent to it. Interdenominational ministerial speakers were included on the week-long program. Rev. Tate became pastor four years ago and reorganized the work. There are three choirs. Members proudly fulfilled their pledge to "wipe the slate clean" — or burn the mortgage.

Edinburg, Ind. — Seventeen Corpsmen at Atterbury Job Corps Center were awarded certificates for completion of college credit courses at the Indiana Vocational Technical College (Ivy Tech) at Columbus. The completion of the courses signals the first time that Corpsmen have been eligible to receive full college credit for courses taken while undergoing vocation and academic training at the Center.

At a luncheon held in honor of the Corpsmen, Britt Polley, manager of public affairs / community relations at the Center, explained that this completely innovative linkage between these two institutions, originated from an idea by members of the Indianapolis Community Relations Council for Atterbury Job Corps and particularly through the efforts of Mearle R. Donica, Director of Ivy Tech in Fort Wayne.

Guided Study Program aimed at ineligible

Students with potential who are ineligible for admission to Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis because of past academic records may be helped to enter the University through a Guided Study Program which was started in 1968.

"We have about 450 admissions now," Dr. Merle Draper, director and chairman of the program, said, "and about 1,050 students have entered since the program began. Of this number, 45 percent were officially admitted to IUPUI. Only about 25 percent dropped because they could not make the minimum grade average."

Counselors for the program are faculty, staff, and administrators, who are particularly interested in helping students help themselves. They usually see these students once a week as they attend regular classes of IUPUI and the professor does not know which are enrolled in the guided study. The counselors give help that will develop the student into becoming an independent learner. Students are not spoon fed but enter into class studies along with all other students.

"Counselors give the student help in choosing his courses, in improving his learning skills, in selecting a major, in becoming a successful student, and in learning how to study," Dr. Draper said.

"Many individuals," she added, "have the potential for successful academic work but for a variety of reasons have not used their abilities fully in academic pursuits. For example, they may not be in the upper half of their graduating class but records showed potential, or they may have been to college some place but do not have a total coverage to show they could do successful work."

"The guided study program then, provides for at least one semester for selected inadmissible individuals to attend university work on credit and/or non-credit basis, that they may become admissible degree-seeking students."

A committee, chaired by Dr. Draper, reviews all available information about the applicant: his past academic record, work experience, service in the armed forces, and recommendations from counselors or employers.

A basic proposition of the program is that each individual will have the opportunity, assistance, and encouragement to prove he can compete in a university academic situation. If he disproves this, then the University has no further obligation to consider him for admission to a degree program.

Counselors include: Miss Valerie Gira, administrative assistant to the dean; Mrs. Maria Bourke, counselor in Arts and Sciences; James Gillespie, counselor at the Columbus Center of IUPUI; Miss Juanita Laidig, instructor in nursing; John Mueller, assistant professor of education; Mrs. Ruth Radcliffe, assistant professor of nursing; Stanley Warren, counselor, University Division; Alvin Bynum, assistant dean of the University Division; James R. East, associate dean, Downtown Campus; Miss Judith Mattes, research assistant in Education; Robert Patterson, academic counselor, IUPUI; Donald Wakefield, coordinator of Student Service, and Daniel Wolf, assistant dean, IUPUI.

Apparently news of the program has spread beyond the state for there are students presently enrolled from Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New York, and Kentucky.

"Even counselor in high schools are interested in our program," commented Dr.

BOTH WAYS. Want Ads pay. Whether you see or read them there's profit a-plenty waiting for you in the Want Ad Page of The Recorder.

GETS HELP: Miss Kathy Holman (left) receives instruction on "how to study" from Miss Valerie Gira, administrative assistant to the dean of the Downtown Campus of Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis, in the Guided Study Program of IU-PUI. Miss Gira is one of 14 counselors in the program. Miss Holman is the daughter of Mrs. Iris C. Holman, 3472 N. Illinois.

New Years at home

Young men enlisting in the Navy between December 16 and 31 can spend the holidays at home prior to reporting for recruit training, the Navy announced this week. Commander Charles T. West of the Navy Recruiting Station, Indianapolis, said the special program allows new recruits the last half of the month to delay their reporting date to Jan. 3, 1972.

The only exceptions, West said, are recruits in the Navy's "cache" program who already have delayed their active duty date up to six months.

The new recruit's active duty time still would be listed from December if he took advantage of the special holiday program, West added.

The Black Arts Theater Group, under the direction of Mrs. Wilma Greene, gave two standing room only performances this past Saturday. One was held at John Herron Art School for "Joy Productions," Herron's weekly contribution to the inner-city. The second was held at the Fall Creek YMCA which has become home-base for the Black Arts Theater Group.

Pictured above are the members of this unique troop, which is made up of grass-rooted young Blacks who have no formal theatrical training. To quote their Director, Mrs. Greene, "The unpolished element is the CLOUT we use to awaken the 'Blackness' that is dormant in all mankind."

The Black Arts Theater Group is aided by a writers workshop headed by John Gibson. This industrious individual has just completed a film script called "Inner - City Dweller." It will be filmed here next month starring the entire Black Arts Theater Group. This film is one of many to be presented by this group and is sponsored by the Indiana University Audio-Visual Dept., Bloomington, Ind.

Any organization wishing to engage the Black Arts Theater Group should contact their business Co-ordinator, S.C. Stamps at the Urban League Business Development Center, 3326 Clifton Street, 926-2546/925-6463.

National Urban Fellows now seeking applicants

Applications are being sought in the Indianapolis area by the National Urban Fellows, a nationwide program designed to meet the shortage of urban administrators and to open top leadership opportunities in government, especially for minority group members. Persons now applying will be candidates for the fourth Fellowship year which begins on July 1, 1972, and ends on June 30, 1973.

The Urban Fellows are men and women in their twenties and thirties, mainly from ethnic minorities, who are selected competitively on the basis of their leadership potential. Twenty-six Fellows were selected for the first year of the program and thirty-four in the second year. Currently 35 Fellows are on assignment in cities throughout the nation in the third year of the program.

The core of the Fellowship program is a ten-month on the job assignment with a mayor, city manager or other urban administrator. Graduate Fellows are now employed in key positions in city, county and state government throughout the country.

The 95 men and women awarded Fellowships in the first three years of the program include: 56 Blacks; 2 Orientals; 11 Mexican-Americans; 5 Native Americans (Aleut, Eskimo, American Indian); 12 Puerto Ricans, and 9 Whites.

The program is sponsored by the National League of Cities, the United States Conference of Mayors and Yale University, under a grant from the Ford Foundation and is

UNCF aided by RCA gift

An additional gift has been made to the United Negro College Fund's 1971 annual campaign by RCA Corporation. In addition, the company has undertaken a modest program to provide public service advertising space for a UNCF ad in all of the RCA plant-city newspapers and selected magazines. The ad campaign is part of a continuing program by the UNCF to broaden its base of support for its forty member colleges. This year's goal is $10,000,000.

directed by Frank Logue of New Haven, Conn.

The 1972-73 Fellowship year will begin in July, 1972, with the intensive urban studies course. In September, Fellows will report as special assistants to such urban executives as Mayor Wesley Uhlman of Seattle, and Deputy Mayor Graham Watt, Washington, D.C.; City Managers Tom Fletcher of San Jose, Ted Tedesco of Boulder and William Donaldson of Tacoma; Mark Shedd, Superintendent of Schools in Philadelphia; Edward J. Logue, President of the New York State Urban Development Corporation; Gilbert Hahn, Chairman Washington, D.C. City Council and Councilman Thomas Bradley, Los Angeles.

An applicant must be a citizen of the United States between 24 and 39 and must have a bachelor's degree or equivalent experience, that is, employment which has given him a basic understanding of urban problems and the ability to perform research assignments.

Other requirements are that applicants must have been employed fulltime for at least two years, preferably in an administrative capacity, and that they have demonstrated exceptional ability, leadership potential and commitment to the solution of the urban problems.

Mr. Logue said that although the deadline for receipt of completed applications is March 10, 1972, applications should be submitted as far in advance of that date as possible.

Additional information on the program may be obtained by writing to National Urban Fellows, P.O. Box 1475, New Haven, Conn., 06506.

hours Saturday, then returned to the courtroom asking to hear the doctors' testimony. Two physicians called by the defense said Newton could have been rendered unconscious by loss of blood from his wound.

A doctor called by the prosecution, however, said he did not think Newton lost enough blood to render him unconscious.

Jurors had asked the judge Friday to reread instructions which say unconsciousness is a defense against a crime. Newton was found guilty at his first trial in 1968. After spending 22 months in prison, an appeals court overturned his conviction on grounds the first judge failed to instruct the jury that unconsciousness is a defense. His second trial ended last August in a hung jury.

Christmas without food, clothing and toys. The child who wrote the letter literally begged for some kind of assistance from The Recorder Charities so her younger brothers and sisters may be visited by Santa Claus.

A mother, who just recently got out of the hospital, wrote that her family was recently burned out and everything was destroyed. Since they could not afford homeowners insurance for the damage, they have crowded into the house of a relative, Christmas for this family, where the husband is disabled, will be a bleak time—especially for the kids who have already written letters to Santa Claus asking for surprises.

YOU can help both of these families, and many others, by giving to The Recorder Charities which has received over 500 cards and letters from the unfortunate.

The names of all contributors will be listed in the Christmas issue of The Recorder.

Kindergarten

a diagnosis. He will be eager for his teacher to introduce him to the words a real doctor would use, and he will learn to use them himself as he acts out the part he has chosen. In playing his role, he is getting practice in using words to express himself, and he is learning how new words can be applied to a variety of situations.

Very important too are the make-believe words a child creates for himself. His imitation of a rumbling mountain-slide or the whoosh of a jet plane help him to manipulate sounds. This helps him with phonics later. His play becomes reading in disguise as he discovers new sounds.

A trained kindergarten teacher will take advantage of the young child's love of sounds to teach him something about them. Children will learn the nursery rhymes and poems their teacher reads to them, not because anyone asks them to, but because it is fun to feel the words rolling off their tongues in such a bouncing rhythm.

Singing is fun too. And it is also learning. Boys and girls who don't speak much usually forget their shyness and join in group songs happily. Those who talk incessantly enjoy the discipline of using words in rhythm. Both are increasing their vocabularies and their knowledge of how words sound.

Then of course there is story-time. As pages turn a child associates an idea with a picture and understands that pictures represent real objects. Soon he will learn that words too can represent real objects, as well as ideas. A child may become so familiar with the words of a favorite story that he will be able to say them as the pages are turned. Although he doesn't know what each word is, he knows that what is on the page does say exactly what he is saying. This recognition that letters on a page say something, and that they say exactly the same thing each time they are used, is an important step in learning to read.

In each of these ways and many others, your child is building his reading skills. Most important of all, he is finding out that learning can be fun.

retariat was unsurpassed," said Thant, for whom Bunche had acted as a top trouble-shooter for a decade.

For some months, Bunche had been all but crippled by illness. He suffered from diabetes and a kidney malfunction. The latter required his treatment from time to time with an artificial kidney. His condition was aggravated last summer when he fell in his Queens, N.Y., home and broke his right arm.

Bunche's log of action at the United Nations reflected the crises which confronted the organization over the years—Palestine, the Congo, Yemen, Cyprus, to list a few of the trouble spots toward which his talent was directed.

Orphaned at the age of 14, Bunche grew up in the era that preceded the great civil rights struggles in this country.

Friends said he neither emphasized nor played down his Negro blood.

In 1963, Bunche demonstrated with the late Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, and in 1965 they marched together from Selma to Montgomery, Ala. In 1968, Bunche attended the funeral of the assassinated Dr. King, a fellow Nobel Peace laureate.

There were reports that racial segregation in Washington once led Bunche to turn down President Truman's offer of a top State Department post. Bunche said the reason was his preference for the United Nations.

But he added: "It is well known there is Jim Crow in Washington. It is equally well known that no Negro finds Jim Crow congenial. I am a Negro."

In a cable to the Bunche family after his death, Israel's present premier, Mrs. Golda Meir, said: "His passing is a great loss to all who are interested in peace. There is hardly anybody outside of Israel who was so intimately connected with the state of Israel from its very emergence."

Bunche served as a U. N. trouble-shooter again in renewed fighting between Arabs and Jews in 1956 and 1967. Hammarskjold sent Bunche to the Congo in 1960 to set up a U. N. force. It later was used to suppress the secession of Katanga Province.

Bunche served as a U. N. observer during a civil war in Yemen, and was a member of a U. N. peacekeeping force in Cyprus when Greek and Turkish Cypriots were at odds.

A native of Detroit, Bunche supported himself through high school by installing carpets. He attended the University of California at Los Angeles on an athletic scholarship, winning letters in football, baseball and basketball. During summers he worked as a mess boy on Pacific Coast ships.

Graduated Phi Beta Kappa from UCLA with a degree in international relations, Bunche went on to Harvard for a master's degree and a doctorate.

Arrested earlier during a simultaneous police raid were Tony Smith, 16, 1419 College; James Gaddie, 22, 1400 block College, and Willie Smith, 1432 College.

Shackelford was shot at close range on the parking lot of the College Tavern, 1024 N. College, as he argued with one of the four accused men. Witnesses said one of the men attempted to rob Shackelford.

The would-be robbers escaped but three were arrested Dec. 6.

Noted blacks to analyze white racism

Three noted black intellectuals—a Harvard professor of psychiatry, a magazine editor, and an activist poet—will analyze white racism in terms of culture, colonialism, and psychological development Dec. 21 at 9:30 p.m. on channel 20. Dr. Alvin Poussaint, Dan Watts, and Imamu Amiri Baraka (LeRoi Jones) will outline their views of the racist phenomenon on Part II of Black Journal's "Black Paper on White Racism," on the Public Broadcasting Service.

added, "We don't have a place to lay our head."

"Whatever its name shall be," he told his followers, "we are going to organize and keep on pushing."

Within minutes of the announcement all members of the board of directors of the Chicago chapter of SCLC served notice that they too were resigning.

An aide to Rev. Jackson said that the entire staffs of Operation Breadbasket and the SCLC chapter in Chicago intended to resign and remain with Rev. Jackson.

Rev. Jackson said that all facilities and assets of Operation Breadbasket, including Dr. King's Workshop, and profits from the 1971 Black Expo will be turned over to SCLC.

Disputes between Rev. Jackson and Dr. Ralph D. Abernathy, executive director of SCLC, climaxed Dec. 3 when SCLC's executive board suspended Rev. Jackson for 60 days for forming a foundation and corporation to run Black Expo without the consent of SCLC.

"Since the time has come when I can no longer give my active service to the organization, I consider 60 days too long for this vital work to be endangered by my 'leave of absence' and I hereby submit my resignation, effective Dec. 17, 1971," Rev. Jackson said.

"When it becomes clear two people cannot work together, they should amicably divorce," he continued. "There comes a time in the course of people growing up that they have to choose a new life."

Of Dr. Abernathy he said directly, "I'm glad we have the same goals, but the problem is we are choosing different roads."

When he finished his statement, many persons were crying openly. They gave him a 15-minute standing ovation.

Reason for the latest dispute between Rev. Jackson and SCLC was the handling of an estimated total $500,000 in net receipts from Black Expo.

Dr. Abernathy complained that Rev. Jackson had defied regulations of SCLC by creating, without the conference's permission, two non-profit corporations to organize and operate Black Expo.

Mayor Richard G. Hatcher of Gary has been named chairman of the National Black Caucus of Local Elected Officials (NBCLEO), whose annual meeting was held in Honolulu, Hawaii, in conjunction with the 48th annual Congress of Cities.

NBCLEO is a group of black office holders in municipal and county government, organized to deal with problems peculiar to the within and without the structure of the National League of Cities and the United States Conference of Mayors.

A group of black businessmen said that they, not Rev. Jackson, had formed the corporations, and the net receipts from the exposition, which drew more than 800,000 persons, had been handed to Rev. Jackson.

zens will not ride for reduced rates during the Christmas season as expected. This means that senior citizens suffering the hardship of living on fixed incomes will not be able to benefit from half fares agreed to by the city, transit company and the Coalition slated to begin next week. This means that promises and commitment made to the city, to the Department of Metropolitan Development, to the City Council and to the Coalition have been broken.

The Coalition views this as a severing of the last ties of public trust in the Indianapolis Transit System. The transit system breach of promise is an ample demonstration to the citizens of this city and the city government that the transit company is not concerned with service to the city. Its sole concern exist over its ability to perpetuate a profit.

The Coalition believes a strong and immediate action is required by the citizens of this city to deal with the parasitic and unresponsive transit company.

Detective Thomas L. Johnson said police went to the home after School 45 officials reported that Ellisa had come to school with numerous body bruises after four days absence.

Johnson said that when he went to the home he found dirt, dog and cat excrement throughout the house. He said Billi Jo was lying on a couch "with roaches crawling all over her body."

He also said Clifford had burns on the palms of both hands. Miss Goble told authorities that he had accidentally placed both hands on top of stove burners.

The two other children were found in upstairs bedrooms.

Miss Goble told Johnson that all the children were illegitimate and the only source of income came from Billi Jo's father, who does not live at the Delaware Street address.

Billi Jo, who weighed only eight pounds, and Clifford were taken to General Hospital.

Black marine tells why he deserted in new book

MEMPHIS-NAM-SWEDEN

Is the story of an American deserter, a man who chose to abandon his home, his country, and what some would call his duty to gain what he considered the chance to survive as a human being.

Terry Whitmore tells his story as he sees it: growing up in the black ghetto of Memphis, enduring the institutionalized brutality of Marine Corps training and the horror of combat in Vietnam, receiving decorations from President Johnson, wrestling with his conscience and his hope for the future, and ultimately, fleeing to asylum in Sweden.

He has written neither a political tract nor an exercise in self-justification, but an unusually candid and personal autobiography. Like his life, his book is filled with pride and pain, indecision and indignation, ludicrous misunderstandings and purposeless killing -- a frequently funny, often shocking and profoundly disturbing work.

Terry Whitmore's first contact with the military was the National Defense Cadet Corps in high school. After graduation he volunteered for the Marine Corps rather than face the draft. Severely wounded in action at Con Thien he was hospitalized, first in Vietnam and then in Japan.

Faced with orders to return to combat he ultimately decided to desert, and with the help of Japanese peace activists he escaped first to the Soviet Union, which gave him a month-long VIP tour, and finally to Sweden. He now lives in Stockholm with his wife and step-daughter.

Justice. So far, eight have been killed and 40 wounded, he said. Rev. Chavis is community organizer for the North Carolina-Virginia field office of the Commission and also serves as pastor of the independent First African Congregation of the Black Messiah in Wilmington, a church founded by and for young people.

The Klan-style ROWP led by a former Marine, Leroy Gibson, has repeatedly threatened to kill every Black person in Wilmington "to insure what they call law and order for white people," Mr. Chavis said.

"ROWP has proudly displayed its arsenal to demonstrate that whites are prepared to do whatever is necessary to maintain the status quo," Mr. Chavis said. "An ROWP spokesman admitted that a home-made Gatling gun discovered in a recent state police raid was designed 'to commit mass death.'"

The racial trouble in Wilmington surfaced early this year in the high school when a request by Black students for a special observance of Martin Luther King's birthday was not granted and students were suspended because of a sit-in. After three days of turmoil, National Guard troops were called in. Their attack centered on the Gregory Congregational United Church of Christ which students were using as headquarters.

At that time the Executive Council of the United Church of Christ requested United Church of Christ executives the Commission for Racial Justice and Southern Conference of the denomination to take action for "the freedom safety and welfare of Gregory Church and the people of Wilmington."

An investigative team named by the United Church met with students and the Mayor of Wilmington and with corporations in the area. Later a temporary injunction was issued preventing representatives of the Commission from working in the community.

The current flare-up of the smoldering situation was illustrated, Mr. Chavis reported by the beating and arrest of his assistant pastor the Rev. Roderick Kirby, by eight policemen as he protested the treatment of a 12-year-old youth by police officers.

"Mr. Kirby has been sentenced to 12 months in jail despite the fact that six witnesses testified that police attacked him. The verdict is being appealed," Rev. Chavis said.

"The Black community has refused to bow down to threats and intimidations," he declared. "It has developed a survival campaign to counter the attacks of the vigilantes who ride through the black community with guns hanging out of car windows."

"Wilmington has seen a new Black man who is determined to be free. Even if the only alternative is death, the blacks in Wilmington will fight on to overcome the racism that has controlled everything there for centuries," he told the United Church Commission.

The Commission for Racial Justice is the agency of the United Church of Christ charged with responsibility for mobilizing church resources to aid in the struggle of Blacks and other minorities for civil rights, fair employment, housing and education.

"I feel that these indictments would indicate a beginning on the path toward justice," said Maxine Smith executive secretary of the Memphis chapter of the NAACP.

"However, there is a question as to the involvement and guilt of others at the scene. In my estimation, everyone who was there and aware of the murder is guilty of something--at least trying to hide the truth."
